

03
OCTOBER
2023

09.00 – 17.15
University of Luxembourg
Campus Belval, Esch-sur-Alzette
< Register here: <https://ulsurvey.uni.lu/index.php/488812>

Housing Day 2023

Where Practice and Research Meet

ABOUT

Fostering connections between research, policy, and practice can generate innovative ideas beyond what is possible in any one sphere alone. Housing Day 2023 offers participants a chance to take stock of housing research and practice in Luxembourg, identify collaboration opportunities across different groups of stakeholders, and discuss policy relevant topics when it comes to housing in Luxembourg and abroad.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Research and Practice Panels (9:30 to 12:30)

(English and French with simultaneous translation)

- Findings from ongoing housing research in Luxembourg
- Current housing initiatives and services in Luxembourg

Breakout Sessions (13:30-16:00)

- Designed to foster collaborative dialogue and generate innovative ideas
- Choose from: Housing First, the right to housing, the role of property ownership, alternative forms of housing

Plenary Session (16:15-17:15, reception to follow)

(English and French with simultaneous translation)

- Housing opportunities and challenges and the role of cross-sector collaboration

Networking breaks (throughout the day)

- Collaboration Corner to learn more about cross-sector collaboration and suggest ideas for future initiatives

PRACTICAL INFORMATION

Venue : Maison du Savoir, 2 Av. de l'Université, University of Luxembourg, Belval Campus

Lunch and refreshments included for all registered attendees

Full program available at: <https://propel.uni.lu/events/housing-day-2023/>

Housing Day 2023 is funded by the PROPEL project under FNR ATTRACT grant number 14345912.

Fondation pour
l'accès au logement

□ FACULTY OF HUMANITIES,
EDUCATION AND
SOCIAL SCIENCES